4.8 TL MILLION NET PROFIT Dear Stakeholders,

2016 was a year in which the world's political and economic agenda was extremely busy. In the global political arena, the US presidential election, the EU referendum in the UK, geopolitical tensions in the Middle East and the refugee crisis were influential during the majority of the year. Meanwhile, on the economic front, the attention of the policy makers and economic actors, in developed and developing countries, focused on the decisions to be made by the Federal Reserve (Fed) in the US throughout the year.

While the Republican candidate Donald J. Trump's victory in the US presidential elections resulted in sharp currency fluctuations in the markets, the US dollar, which further strengthened by the 25 basis point rate increase decision at the last Fed meeting of the year, exerts a great deal of pressure on emerging market currencies.

On the other hand, the uncertainty remains over Europe's future in regard to the medium and long term impacts of the UK's decision to leave EU with the Brexit referendum and the ambiguity related to the European trade markets – including Turkey ¬– continues to grow.

The world economy, still cautiously avoiding the effects of the global financial crisis in 2008, does not yet seem to have achieved sustainable growth momentum. With limited growth of 3.1%, below expectations in 2016, the global economy currently demonstrates a fragile outlook, remaining under the influence of the slowdown in China, the locomotive power of economic growth in recent years, in addition to the efforts of central banks of developed countries to transition to monetary policy normalization.

Another factor negatively affecting global economic activity was the lag in the recovery of commodity and oil prices, which witnessed a sharp fall in 2015. The price of Brent oil at USD 28.7/barrel, which has fallen to the lowest levels for the last 10 years at the beginning of 2016, recovered rapidly at the end of the year due to the agreement of OPEC and non-OPEC oil producing countries to limit their supply.

In 2016, factors increasing volatility in global markets, such as increasing political uncertainties, geopolitical risks and a fragile macroeconomic outlook, put immense pressure on both developed economies and emerging markets such as Turkey.

The Turkish economy left behind a challenging year in which it was most severely tested by both macroeconomic and political factors in and outside the country.

Despite the successful performance it demonstrated in the first half of 2016 with a growth rate of 3.9% against the backdrop of a negative global environment, in the second half of the year the Turkish economy was shadowed by the harsh political developments in the country and foreign-policy-related issues. Economic growth decelerated due to the failed coup attempt in July and adversities experienced in the tourism sector in the country. The stagnation in Turkey's export markets in Europe and in the nearby geography, coupled with the commercial embargo imposed by Russia, caused a significant decline in export and tourism revenues. The Turkish economy is expected to have expanded 2.9% as of end-2016, lagging behind the Medium Term Program target.

The high level of geopolitical uncertainties in our region, incidents of terrorism, and the downgrade of our sovereign credit rating below investment grade by the international rating agencies Moody's and S&P, unfortunately, have a debilitating effect on the markets.

Despite all the global shocks that 2016 brought about, the geopolitical risks experienced in its close geographical region and the many adversities in the country, we see that the Turkish economy shows a dynamic and resilient performance nevertheless.

Turkey holds great investment potential for foreign investors, through its favorable demographics featuring a young population, and as a strong economy that completed its integration with the world thanks to its strong industrial and financial infrastructure. Turkey continues to be the most important stabilizing force of the region with its strong domestic market, and its political structure that actively supports foreign investment.

In my opinion, a great deal of responsibility falls on the economic actors in Turkey, financial circles and professional businesspersons to bolster the perception of investors monitoring Turkey from abroad and to present Turkey's internal and external dynamics with an accurate perspective.

At ÜNLÜ & Co, this year we took part among the volunteer delegates during the meetings organized in the US by the Prime Ministry Investment Support and Promotion Agency. We met with think tanks, global investors, corporate executives, political actors, and media organizations to close the gap between the perception of Turkey and the reality. In addition to semi-official contacts, especially with representatives of the private sector, which would help boost the knowledge and confidence of financial and investment circles, there is also a need for revitalizing investor appetite with the concrete steps to be taken by the political will.

Structural reforms must be swiftly executed to attract foreign direct investment, which Turkey needs most of all to ensure sustainable, value added growth. One of the basic requirements to boost the interest of foreign investment in Turkey as well as to serve the country's potential right while seeking its best interests would be to establish domestic investment banks and ensure their inclusion in the national banking system.

The investment banking sector, which we see as a complementary element of the banking industry, should be supported by the activities of financial institutions that have national capital and a high capacity of competing with the global giants. ÜNLÜ & Co, which has created a sustainable business model taking strength from its qualified human resources, robust capital structure and strong corporate culture maintained its activities with the vision of constructing a long lasting financial institution. Letter from the Chairman & CEO

We obtained a license for brokerage activities in New York – the world's most important financial capital. As a result, we became the only Turkish financial institution in the US to engage in investment banking activities. While leaving behind its 20th year of operation, ÜNLÜ & Co is proud of its unique position in the Turkish financial markets with its wide range of services and financial solutions in investment banking and asset management via our subsidiaries and business lines.

ÜNLÜ & Co's 20 year adventure is a story filled with success – a tale of a company we established with four persons to provide advisory services in 1996. Thanks to the 20 years of progress with entrepreneurship, determination, ambition, and a firm belief in our country, we transformed this company into a big family operating in investment banking and asset management with over 300 employees – an investment holding with an asset size totaling TL 463.2 million.

At the foundation of ÜNLÜ & Co's 20 year success story is our growth strategy that we executed with faith and our commitment to add value to our clients, our employees, our investors, the finance world and society.

In 2016, we expanded our traditional service areas, such as corporate finance and asset management which the ÜNLÜ & Co brand is closely associated with, to include investment advisory and brokerage services to select individual investors as well. To this end, we started providing services to our portfolio of individuals by launching the ÜNLÜ & Co. Investment Advisory and Brokerage Services business. We enriched our product range for select individual investors with new mutual funds, structured debt instruments, and online trading platforms. In 2016, our group also took important steps toward globalization. We obtained a license for brokerage activities in New York – the world's most important financial capital. As a result, we became the only Turkish financial institution in the US to engage in investment banking activities. With the start of operations at the ÜNLÜ & Co New York Office, we aim to ensure more inflow of funds from the US to Turkey. We think that our presence in New York will also provide great opportunities to introduce Turkey to foreign investors more extensively.

In 2016, another major development that, we believe, strengthens our capital structure and enhances our global effectiveness was the partnership we established with the UK-based Wellcome Trust. We increased our capital structure further with the USD 17.7 million injection provided by Wellcome Trust – one of the largest charitable foundations in the world – in exchange for a 9.9% stake in ÜNLÜ & Co.

This partnership solidified ÜNLÜ & Co's capital strength and our strategy of becoming the region's leading investment banking services and asset management group and we thus took concrete steps toward our goal of expanding in the Middle East and North Africa region. In 2016, we completed the establishment of the Regional Opportunities Fund that will invest in Iran, which we believe harbors significant potential in this geography. In the upcoming period, we plan to finalize our feasibility studies on offering brokerage activities in Iran. By working with investors and clients in Iran, we also aim to put to good use ÜNLÜ & Co's years of know-how and experience in company mergers, acquisitions, and sales.

2016 was a year in which we made new breakthroughs by ramping up our capacity to deliver the service and product range of a full-fledged investment bank at world-class standards in Turkey. Markets Overview - 2016 Highlights and Future Outlook

Despite all the adversities experienced in 2016, the Turkish economy remained resilient.

The economic activity is expected to reaccelerate, thanks to the measures to be taken by the government in 2017, private sector incentives, and higher public spending. GDP is forecast to grow 3.5% in 2017. 2016 went down in history as a year of missed opportunities due to many unexpected negative developments in Turkey. Numerous extraordinary events took place in 2016, which, after the elections of 2015, was expected to be mellower from a political perspective.

After absorbing the initial negative effects of the political crisis with Russia on tourism and foreign trade, the markets performed relatively well until May in tandem with the increasing interest in emerging markets in the first months of the year. The change in the cabinet in May, followed by the treasonous terrorist attack at the Istanbul Airport; the decision of the UK to leave the European Union, which rocked the entire globe; and the July 15 coup attempt, which has far more important than the preceding events in terms of impact, caused Turkey to negatively decouple from other emerging markets. Although the coup attempt was overcome at a pace unprecedented in any other country, the announced and ongoing state of emergency in Turkey, the sovereign credit rating downgrade by leading rating agencies such as S&P and Moody's, as well as the rapid depreciation of the Turkish lira hampered the recovery of the markets.

With the measures taken by government and the effect of normalization, economic activity is expected to rebound in 2017.

Despite the deterioration in the consumer confidence and real sector sentiment within the context of the uncertainty of elections, the Turkish economy, which grew 6.1% in 2015, continued to expand rapidly at the start of 2016. Due to the negative political and economic developments after July, the third quarter witnessed an economic contraction on an annualized basis, for the first time since 2009. With the economic activity recuperating in the last quarter, the economic growth figure was 2.9% in 2016. However, the economic activity is expected to reaccelerate, thanks to the measures to be taken by the government in 2017, private sector incentives, and higher public spending. GDP is forecast to grow 3.5% in 2017.

Commodity prices remained at low levels throughout 2016 and the slowdown in the pace of economic activity sustained the recovery in the current account deficit until July. However, with the reversal of this trend, current account deficit to GDP ratio ended the year at 3.8%. Turkey is projected to have a financing requirement of USD 94 billion in 2017 in total, with a current account gap of USD 40 billion and a debt repayment obligation of USD 54 billion. We expect current account deficit to GDP ratio to reach 5.0% by the end of 2017. Rapid normalization of food prices in the first half of the year and the stable course of the Turkish lira helped inflation to rebound quickly. The annual inflation, which stood at 7% as of November 2016, closed the year at 8.5% due to the rapid depreciation of the Turkish lira as well as to rising prices. In 2017, inflation is expected to prevail in the range of 9% to 12% depending on commodity and food prices as well as on the performance of the Turkish lira.

Even though economic activity has slowed down, considering all the negative developments experienced in 2016, the Turkish economy remains resilient and has demonstrated that it can rapidly emerge from a crisis environment. Low public borrowing and a balanced budget allow the government to support the economy by increasing public spending, as mentioned in the Medium Term Program recently published by the government. The ratio of the budget deficit to the GDP may increase to 2.5% with the effect of the announced and planned stimulus measures.

Global and domestic political developments will affect capital markets in 2017.

The most important agenda items of 2016 in the global arena were the UK's referendum to exit from the European Union, i.e. Brexit, and the presidential election in the United States. Both ended in surprising results, defying pollsters' expectations. While the UK's decision to exit from the European Union signals that increasing populist and protective policies are likely to continue globally, it also called into question the future of the European Union. Meanwhile, Donald Trump's victory in the US presidential election is reason for global political scenarios of coming years to be rewritten.

The most important agenda item of the capital markets in 2016 was the interest rate policy of the Federal Reserve (Fed), as was the case in 2015. Having increased the benchmark rate by 25 basis points in December 2016 after a period of one year, the Fed reasoned that it can impose three incremental interest rate hikes in 2017. In an environment where interest rates rise globally and the US dollar appreciates, the level of Turkish Lira interest rates and the Turkish Lira's course will be key in terms of the domestic economy.

Apart from the course of global interest rates, the development of commodity prices and the Syria-based geopolitical risks will be among the most important external factors that will affect the performance of Turkish capital markets in 2017. Apart from the course of global interest rates, the direction of commodity prices and the Syria-based geopolitical risks will be among the most important external factors to affect the performance of Turkish capital markets in 2017.

ASSETS MANAGED BY ÜNLÜ PORTFÖY

PORTFOLIO MANAGEMENT

ÜNLÜ Portföy is one of the leading independent portfolio management companies in Turkey. It provides highquality portfolio management services to institutional and individual investors mainly focusing on Turkish bonds, equities and structured products.

The product range is expanded with the issuance of new funds and structured products.

In 2016, in line with ÜNLÜ & Co's strategic objectives, ÜNLÜ Portföy continued to develop its client base, particularly targeting select individual and institutional investors.

ÜNLÜ Portföy aims to provide high value added, privileged portfolio management services in line with investors' risk-return preferences and based on fair pricing. The company enriches its product range with structured products as well as fixed income funds, principal protected funds and hedge funds.

Structured products are securities that combine a fixed income asset and option contracts with one or multiple underlying assets such as equities, equity indices, currency, interest, FX and commodities. Principal protected structured products aim to protect the principal if it is held to maturity while allowing the investor to participate in the yield of underlying assets with a predetermined ratio through option contracts. In that respect, ÜNLÜ Portföy issued principal-protected structured products participating in the fall and rise of the BIST-30 index and based on the rise of banking shares basket. ÜNLÜ Portföy provides the opportunity of taking advantage of the equity market by investing in capital-protected funds. This strategy also offers principal protection.

In 2016, ÜNLÜ Portföy also facilitated the issue of DCD (Dual currency deposit) equivalent structured products on a weekly basis. These products are developed for investors who target to earn more than the TL (FX) deposit rate by selling the right to convert his/her TL (FX) principal amount at maturity at a predetermined exchange rate level.

ÜNLÜ Portföy aims to provide higher return for term deposit investors by creating an alternative practice through DCD equivalent structured products.

ÜNLÜ Portföy has also launched the Regional Opportunities Fund, the first fund that enables clients to benefit from the opportunities presented by Iran's reengagement with the global economy.

Also launched in 2016 was the External Debt Fund, which is suitable for investors with foreign currency savings who seek an alternative to term deposit. The fund aims to create absolute return in USD by investing in fixed income assets, both Turkish and foreign government and private sector debt instruments, denominated in local and foreign currencies.

In 2016, ÜNLÜ Portföy established the Real Estate Investment Fund with the aim of benefiting from restructurings and dislocations in the local real estate sector with a medium term perspective. The country's demographics provide a base line of mid-term support for the asset class, making short-term dislocations all the more attractive.

Stable performance

The fixed income funds that ÜNLÜ Portföy established are suitable for investors accustomed to investing in term deposits and fixed income instruments. Funds aim at higher returns than term deposits with comparable risk and volatility profiles. These funds do not take stock market positions and mainly invest in fixed income securities including government and corporate bonds, in both TL and foreign currencies. Since its inception October 2012, Second Variable Fund has steadily outperformed its benchmark. In 2016, the Fund outperformed the average return on deposit (11%) by providing 11.88% deposit equivalent return. Likewise, the Third Variable Fund outperformed this number with 11.86% deposit equivalent return.

First Variable Fund aims to provide stock market investors a high yield by taking advantage of the long-term growth potential of Turkish economy. The fund achieved 18.54% return whereas BIST-100 Index recorded 8.52%.

2017: A year of active marketing

ÜNLÜ Portföy has widened its product range by introducing new financial instruments in 2016. In 2017, in order to promote new financial products and expand its client base, the company aims to increase its marketing efforts. Also launched in 2016 was the External Debt Fund, which is suitable for investors with foreign currency savings who seek an alternative to term deposit.

New standards, amendments and interpretations effective as of 31 December 2016:

- Amendment to TFRS 14 regarding regulatory deferral accounts, effective from annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2016. TFRS 14, 'Regulatory deferral accounts' permits first-time adopters to continue to recognise amounts related to rate regulation in accordance with their previous GAAP requirements when they adopt TFRS. However, to enhance comparability with entities that already apply TFRS and do not recognise such amounts, the standard requires that the effect of rate regulation must be presented separately from other items.
- Annual improvements 2014; effective from annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2016. These set of amendments impacts 4 standards:
 - TFRS 5, 'Non-current assets held for sale and discontinued operations'
 - TFRS 7, 'Financial instruments: Disclosures'
 - TAS 19, 'Employee benefits'
- TAS 34, 'Interim financial reporting'
- Amendment to TFRS 11, 'Joint arrangements' on acquisition of an interest in a joint operation, effective from annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2016. This amendment adds new guidance on how to account for the acquisition of an interest in a joint operation that constitutes a business. The amendments specify the appropriate accounting treatment for such acquisitions.
- Amendments to TAS 16 'Property, plant and equipment', and TAS 41, 'Agriculture', regarding bearer plants, effective from annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2016. These amendments change the financial reporting for bearer plants, such as grape vines, rubber trees and oil palms. It has been decided that bearer plants should be accounted for in the same way as property, plant and equipment because their operation is similar to that of manufacturing. Consequently, the amendments include them within the scope of TAS 16, instead of TAS 41. The produce growing on bearer plants will remain within the scope of TAS 41.
- Amendment to TAS 16, 'Property, plant and equipment' and TAS 38, 'Intangible assets', on depreciation and amortisation, effective from annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2016. In this amendment it has clarified that the use of revenue based methods to calculate the depreciation of an asset is not appropriate because revenue generated by an activity that includes the use of an asset generally reflects factors other than the consumption of the economic benefits embodied in the asset. It is also clarified that revenue is generally presumed to be an inappropriate basis for measuring the consumption of the economic benefits embodied in an intangible asset.
- Amendments to TAS 27, 'Separate financial statements' on the equity method, effective from annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2016. These amendments allow entities to use the equity method to account for investments in subsidiaries, joint ventures and associates in their separate financial statements.
- Amendment to TFRS 10 'Consolidated financial statements' and TAS 28, 'Investments in associates and joint ventures', effective from annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2016. These amendments clarify the application of the consolidation exception for investment entities and their subsidiaries.
- Amendment to TAS 1, 'Presentation of financial statements' on the disclosure initiative, effective from annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2016, these amendments are as part of the IASB initiative to improve presentation and disclosure in financial reports.

New TFRS standards and amendments effective after 31 December 2016:

- Amendments to TAS 7 'Statement of cash flows' on disclosure initiative, effective from annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2017. These amendments introduce an additional disclosure that will enable users of financial statements to evaluate changes in liabilities arising from financing activities. The amendment is part of the IASB's Disclosure Initiative, which continues to explore how financial statement disclosure can be improved.
- Amendments TAS 12 'Income Taxes', effective from annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2017. The amendments clarify the accounting for deferred tax where an asset is measured at fair value and that fair value is below the asset's tax base. It also clarify certain other aspects of accounting for deferred tax assets.

- Amendments to TFRS 2, 'Share based payments' on clarifying how to account for certain types of share-based payment transactions, effective from annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2018. This amendment clarifies the measurement basis for cash-settled, share-based payments and the accounting for modifications that change an award from cash-settled to equity-settled. It also introduces an exception to the principles in TFRS 2 that will require an award to be treated as if it was wholly equity-settled, where an employer is obliged to withhold an amount for the employee's tax obligation associated with a share-based payment and pay that amount to the tax authority.
- TFRS 9 'Financial instruments', effective from annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2018. This standard replaces the guidance in TAS 39. It includes requirements on the classification and measurement of financial assets and liabilities; it also includes an expected credit losses model that replaces the current incurred loss impairment model.
- TFRS 15 'Revenue from contracts with customers', effective from annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2018. TFRS 15, 'Revenue from contracts with customers' is a converged standard from the IASB and FASB on revenue recognition. The standard will improve the financial reporting of revenue and improve comparability of the top line in financial statements globally.
- Amendment to TFRS 15, 'Revenue from contracts with customers', effective from annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2018. These amendments comprise clarifications of the guidance on identifying performance obligations, accounting for licences of intellectual property and the principal versus agent assessment (gross versus net revenue presentation). New and amended illustrative examples have been added for each of those areas of guidance. The IASB has also included additional practical expedients related to transition to the new revenue standard.
- TFRS 16 'Leases', effective from annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2019, This standard replaces the current guidance in TAS 17 and is a farreaching change in accounting by lessees in particular. Under TAS 17, lessees were required to make a distinction between a finance lease (on balance sheet) and an operating lease (off balance sheet). TFRS 16 now requires lessees to recognise a lease liability reflecting future lease payments and a 'right-of-use asset' for virtually all lease contracts. The IASB has included an optional exemption for certain short-term leases and leases of low-value assets; however, this exemption can only be applied by lessees. For lessors, the accounting stays almost the same. However, as the IASB has updated the guidance on the definition of a lease (as well as the guidance on the combination and separation of contracts), lessors will also be affected by the new standard. At the very least, the new accounting model for lessees is expected to impact negotiations between lessors and lessees. Under TFRS 16, a contract is, or contains, a lease if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration.
- Amendments to TFRS 4, 'Insurance contracts' regarding the implementation of TFRS 9, 'Financial instruments', effective from annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2018. These amendments introduce two approaches: an overlay approach and a deferral approach. The amended standard will:
 - Give all companies that issue insurance contracts the option to recognise in other comprehensive income, rather than profit or loss, the volatility that could arise when TFRS 9 is applied before the new insurance contracts standard is issued; and
 - Give companies whose activities are predominantly connected with insurance an optional temporary exemption from applying TFRS 9 until 2021. The entities that defer the application of TFRS 9 will continue to apply the existing financial instruments standard-TAS 39.
- Amendment to TAS 40, 'Investment property' relating to transfers of investment property, effective from annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2018. These amendments clarify that to transfer to, or from, investment properties there must be a change in use. To conclude if a property has changed use there should be an assessment of whether the property meets the definition. This change must be supported by evidence.
- Annual improvements 2014-2016, effective from annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2018. These set of amendments impacts 3 standards:
 - TFRS 1,' First-time adoption of TFRS', regarding the deletion of short-term exemptions for first-time adopters regarding TFRS 7, TAS 19, and TFRS 10 effective 1 January 2018.
 - TFRS 12,'Disclosure of interests in other entities' regarding clarification of the scope of the standard. These amendments should be applied retrospectively for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2017.

Subsidiaries' balance sheet and comprehensive income statements are combined with consolidated statements of the Company and the carrying amount of the Group's investment in each subsidiary and the Group's portion of the cost value of the capital of each subsidiary are eliminated.

Accounting policies of subsidiaries have been changed where necessary to ensure consistency with the policies adopted by the Group.

Intra-group balances and transactions, and any unrealized income and expenses arising from intra-group transactions are eliminated in preparing the consolidated financial statements.

Non-controlling interest transactions that do not result in a loss of control for the parent company are recognised as equity. These transactions are made between shareholders. The difference between the net book value of the subsidiary's gained assets and the fair value of the price paid to gain the said assets is recognised under the equity. Non-controlling interests and profit or loss resulting from the sales are categorised under the equities.

(b) Revenue recognition

(i) Fee and commission income and expenses

Fees and commissions are recorded as income or expense at the time the transactions to which they relate are made. Furthermore, funds management fees and portfolio management fees are recognized on an accrual basis. Common stock transaction commissions are netted off with commission returns. The Group records income from the sales of securities in its portfolio when the sales are conducted. Service income comprises of the commission income arising from financial services provided by the Group including brokerage services and portfolio management services. Commission income is recognized when the corresponding service is rendered. Performance fee income included in service income is recognized on an accrual basis, when the yield of the corporate portfolio is higher than "Benchmark Criteria" mentioned in the related agreement. Other income and expenses are recognized on an accrual basis.

(ii) Interest income and expenses and dividend income

Interest income and expenses are recognized in the income statement in the period to which they relate on an accrual basis. Interest income includes coupons earned on fixed income investment securities and amortization of discounts on government bonds.

Dividend income from common stock investments are recognized when the shareholders have the right to take the dividend.

Interest on loans is reflected in the consolidated financial statements over values of collection estimates of loans and receivables discounted via the effective interest method. The differences between the current net value and the book value of calculated collection estimates of loan portfolios are recorded under the item of "Interest income from loans" in the "Service income" account.

(c) Financial instruments

(i) Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss

Financial assets, which are classified as "financial assets at fair value through profit or loss", are trading financial assets and are either acquired for generating profit from short-term fluctuations in the price or dealer's margin, or are the financial assets included in a portfolio in which a pattern of short-term profit making exists independent from the acquisition purpose.

Trading financial assets are initially recognized at fair value and are subsequently re-measured at their fair value. In assessing the fair value of the trading securities, the best bid price as of the balance sheet date is used. In case that the fair value price is not formed in an active market conditions it is accepted that the fair value of the asset has not been determined reliably and "The discounted value" which is calculated by effective interest rate is taken into account as fair value. The gains and losses formed as a result of valuation made are booked to the related income/expense accounts.

All related realized and unrealized gains and losses derived from the change of trading financial assets' fair value, and interest and coupon income derived from financial assets are reported as "Financial income".

Assets in this category are classified as current assets.

(ii) Financial assets available-for-sale

The related assets are valued by fair value in the periods following their recording to the books. In case that the fair value price is not formed in an active market conditions it is accepted that the fair value of the asset has not been determined reliably and the discounted value which calculated by effective interest rate is taken into account as fair value.

Available-for-sale financial assets are subsequently re-measured at fair value. "Unrealized gains and losses" arising from changes in the fair value of securities classified as available-for-sale are recognized in shareholders' equity as "Marketable Securities valuation reserve", until there is a permanent decline in the fair values of such assets or they are disposed of.

When these securities are disposed of or impaired, the related fair value differences accumulated in the shareholders' equity are transferred to the income statement.

When these securities' fair value differences are determined, this impairment loss effect is transferred to the income statement.

(d) Trade receivables

The Group books a provision for the doubtful receivables when there is an objective evidence of trade receivables are uncollectible. The correspondent provision amount is the difference between the book value and uncollectible receivable amount. The collectible amount is the discounted portion of trade receivables by effective interest rate including the collectible guarantees and securities.

In the event of the collections of the doubtful receivables whether the whole amount or the some part of it, after the booking of the provision for the doubtful receivables, the collected amount is deducted from the doubtful receivables provision (Note 8).

(e) Trade payables

Trade payables refer to the obligatory payments for the goods and services obtained by the suppliers for the ordinary activities of the company. If the time period for the trade receivables to be paid is one year or less (or if it is longer, but is within the normal operating cycle of the company), these receivables are classified as short term liabilities. If not, they are classified as long term liabilities.

Trade payables are recorded with their fair values and recognized in the accounts of the following periods, through use of the effective interest rate method over discounted value, by allocation of a provision for impairment (Note 8).

(f) Derivative financial instruments

Derivative financial instruments are recognized initially at fair value; attributable transaction costs are recognized in income statement when incurred. When a derivative is not designated in a qualifying hedge relationship, all changes in its fair value are recognized immediately in profit or loss as a component of income/(loss) on derivative instruments.

(g) Assets held for sale

A fixed asset classified as an asset kept for sales purposes (or a group of fixed assets to be disposed of) is measured by the lower of either its book value or sales cost deducted from fair value. In order for an asset to be classified as an asset for sales purposes (or a group of fixed assets to be disposed of), it should be promptly sellable under usual conditions frequently encountered in the sales of such assets with a high possibility of being sold. To achieve a high possibility for a sale, the proper administrative level should make a plan for the sale of the asset and start an active program for completion of the plan by determining purchasers. Furthermore, the asset should be put on the market actively at a price compatible with its fair value (Note 12).

(h) Property and equipment

Depreciation is provided on restated amounts of property and equipment using the straight-line method based on the useful lives of such assets, the estimated useful lives of assets are as it is shown below:

Office equipment	5 years
Furniture and fixtures	3 - 5 years
Other tangible assets	5 years
Leasehold improvements	shorter of 5 years or period of lease

Estimated useful life and depreciation method are reviewed every year to identify the effects of the changes in estimations and the changes in estimations are entered into accounts.

Where the carrying amount of an asset is greater than its estimated recoverable amount, it is written down immediately to its recoverable amount. Gains and losses on disposal of property and equipment are determined by reference to their carrying amount and are taken into account in determining operating profit.

Gains and losses on the disposal of property and equipment are determined in reference to their carrying amounts and are taken into account in determining operating profit.

(i) Intangible assets

Intangible assets comprise acquired intellectual property, information systems and computer software. They are recorded at acquisition cost and amortized on a straight-line basis over their estimated economic lives for a period not exceeding three to five years from the date of acquisition. To determine the change effect in estimation of the estimated useful lives and depreciation method is considered every year and accounted accordingly to changes in these estimations (Note 16).

Where an indication of impairment exists, the carrying amount of any intangible asset is assessed and written down immediately to its recoverable amount.

(j) Impairment of financial assets

Financial assets except trading financial assets are evaluated each period to determine whether they have indicators of impairment.

The financial instruments are accepted as impaired in case that the expected collectable amount calculated by discounting of expected future cash flows by an effective interest rate or the amount accounted in accordance with the fair value of the instrument are lower than the book value of the instrument. For the impaired financial assets the provision for the impairment has been calculated and the booked to the related provision expense accounts.

Cash and cash equivalents are liquid assets and do not have significant impairment risk.

The Group's loans under follow-up are comprised of non-performing loans purchased from banks and other financial institutions operating in Turkey. Loans and receivables are recognized as the estimated future cash flows discounted using the effective interest method in the financial statements.

The difference between the net present value of estimated future cash flows discounted using the effective interest rate and the carrying value of loan portfolios is recognized in the income statement as interest income.

The Group determined impairment losses based on the discounted cash flows projections expected to be derived from the future cash flows of non-performing corporate loans. The discount rates used to determine impairment losses is the expected return at the acquisition date of the portfolio. If the estimated discounted future cash flows are lower than the acquisition cost of the non-performing loans, impairment of financial assets is recognized.

If the Group does not perform any collection from the individual loans under follow up during the period between the acquisition date and the balance sheet date, impairment of financial assets is recognized in the financial statements in accordance with the number of days elapsed detailed below:

Number of days	Provision rate %
Up to 180 days	20
Between 180-360 days	50
Over 360 days	75-100

(k) Financial liabilities

Except for the liabilities related to financial instruments which are defined as financial liabilities held for trading and classified at their fair values, financial liabilities are recognized at their acquisition costs including the transaction cost and appraised at their discounted values calculated through "effective interest rate method" in the subsequent periods.

All financial expenses are recorded in the income statement and other comprehensive income statement in the period when they arise.

(l) Foreign exchange transactions

Gains and losses resulting from the settlement of such transactions and from the translation of monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are recognized in the income statement. As of 31 December 2016 foreign currency at the end of the period for EUR transactions is TL 3.7099, for USD transactions, it is TL 3.5192, for GBP transactions, it is TL 4.3189 (31 December 2015: EUR: 3.1776, USD: 2.9076, GBP: 4.3007).

Any foreign exchange transactions which had converted to Turkish currency will be disclosed in "Foreign exchange gain/loss" item which is held in income statement.

With respect to the consolidated financial statements, assets and liabilities of the subsidiaries in foreign currency have been translated into TL with the closing exchange rate at the balance sheet date. Profit/Loss items of the subsidiaries have been translated into TL with average exchange rate of the reporting period. (m) Provisions, contingent liabilities and assets

Contingent assets generally arise from unplanned or other unexpected events that bear the probability of inflow of economic benefits to the Group. Contingent assets are not shown on the financial statements, since they may imply accounting of an income that will never be gained. Contingent assets are disclosed in financial statement disclosures, if the inflow of the economic benefits to the Group is probable. Contingent assets are subject to continuous evaluation in order to reflect the effect of developments in contingent assets to financial statements accurately. In case that the probability of inflow of the economic benefit to the Company is almost certain, the related asset and the income generated from the asset are reflected to the financial statements of the regarding period.

(n) Finance leases (where the Group is "lessee")

Assets acquired under finance lease agreements are capitalized at the inception of the lease at the lower of the fair value of the leased property or the present value of the minimum lease payment. Leased assets are included in the property and equipment and depreciation on the leased asset is charged to income on a straight-line basis over the useful life of the asset. Payables arising from financial leasing agreements are shown under "Finance lease payables" in the financial position statement.

(o) Subsequent events

The rates enacted, or substantively enacted, at the balance sheet date are used to determine deferred income tax (Note 26).

The deferred tax assets and the deferred tax liabilities can be netted off only if there is a legal right in this respect according to the tax legislation of the country they are dependent on.

Deferred tax liabilities and assets are recognized when it is probable that the future economic benefit resulting from the reversal of temporary differences will flow to or from the Company. Deferred tax assets resulting from temporary differences in the recognition of expense for income tax and financial reporting purposes are recognized to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profit will be available against which the deferred tax asset can be utilized.

The allocation is made to those cash-generating units or groups of cash-generating units that are expected to benefit from the business combination in which the goodwill arose. 2 - BASIS OF PRESENTATION OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (Continued)

In Turkey, companies can increase their share capital by making a pro-rata distribution of shares ("Bonus shares") to existing shareholders from retained earnings. For the purpose of earnings per share computations, the weighted average number of shares outstanding during the year has been adjusted in respect of bonus shares issued without a corresponding change in resources by giving them a retroactive effect for the year in which they were issued and for each earlier period (Note 27).

The Company declared that, within the scope of the new amendments regarding bonus policy, it will give Group employees who had a performance bonus over a certain amount calculated in their names a pledged share certificate as an additional right, and regarding a separate agreement to be made with the Company and that this pledge will be removed by the Company on the condition that the requirements of the said agreement are met.

Provisions for employment termination benefits

Under the Turkish Labor Law, the Group is required to pay termination benefits to each employee who has completed one year of service and whose employment is terminated without due cause, is called up for military service or reaches the retirement age (58 for women and 60 for men) or dies.

The liability is not funded, as there is no funding requirement.

The provision has been calculated by estimating the present value of the future probable obligation arising from the retirement of employees.

International Financial Reporting Standards requires actuarial valuation methods to be developed to estimate the provision for employment termination benefits, accordingly the following actuarial assumptions were used in the calculation of the total liability.

	31 December 2016	31 December 2015
Discount rate (%)	4.25	3.30
Turnover rate to estimate the probability of retirement (%)	74	92

The basic assumption is that the determined value for every working year increases proportional to inflation. Using this assumption, the existing discount ratio shows the real ratio, unaffected by inflation. Therefore, the maximum amount of employment termination benefits of the Group is determined every six months and is calculated using the maximum amount of TL 4,426 effective from 1 January 2017 (1 January 2016; TL 4 002)

(1 January 2016: TL 4,093).

26 - TAX ASSETS AND LIABILITIES

Turkish Corporate Tax Law has been amended by Law No, 5520 dated 13 June 2006. Most of the articles of this new Law No, 5520 have come into force effective from 1 January 2006. The corporation tax rate is 20%.

Corporation tax rate is applicable on the total income of the companies after adjusting for certain disallowable expenses, income tax exemptions (participation exemption, etc.) and income tax deductions (for example research and development expenses deduction). No further tax is payable unless the profit is distributed.

Except for the dividends paid to non-resident corporations which have a representative office in Turkey or resident corporations, dividends are subject to withholding tax at the rate of 10%. An increase in capital via issuing bonus shares is not considered as a profit distribution and thus does not incur withholding tax.

Corporations are required to pay advance corporation tax quarterly at the rate of 20% on their corporate income. Advance tax is declared by the 10th and paid by the 17th of the second month following each calendar quarter end. Advance tax paid by corporations is credited against the annual corporation tax liability, if, despite offsetting, there remains a paid advance tax amount, it may be refunded or offset against other liabilities to the government.

In Turkey, there is no procedure for a final and definitive agreement on tax assessments. Companies file their tax returns by the 25th of the fourth month following the close of the financial year to which they relate.

Tax returns are open for five years from the beginning of the year that follows the date of filing during which time the tax authorities have the right to audit tax returns, and the related accounting records on which they are based, and may issue reassessments based on their findings.

Under the Turkish taxation system, tax losses can be carried forward to offset against future taxable income for up to five years. Tax losses cannot be carried back to offset profits from previous periods.

29 - FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

The fair value of the financial instruments

Despite of the obligatory sale and the close-out, the fair value describes the amount of the financial instrument for its purchase and sell, to the consent process of related sides. Under this circumstance, the quoted market price reflects the fair value, most appropriately.

The estimated fair values of financial instruments have been determined by the Company using available market information and appropriate valuation methodologies. However, judgment is necessarily required to interpret market data to estimate the fair value. Accordingly, the estimates presented herein are not necessarily indicative of the amounts the Company could realize in a current market exchange.

Despite of the financial lease receivables and borrowings, the fair values of short-term assets and liabilities have been estimated close to their book values since the impact of the discount is irrelevant for the fair value.

The fair values and carrying values of financial assets and liabilities of the Group are as follows:

	Carrying value		Fair value

- Third level: Financial assets and liabilities are valued with inputs that cannot be based on data observable in the market and used to determine the fair value of the asset or liability.
