Sector Developments

In Q3, the main drivers of global markets were the Fed's first rate hike since 2023, US Treasury yields rising to their highest level in 20 years at the end of September, and oil prices exceeding $100 due to geopolitical developments.

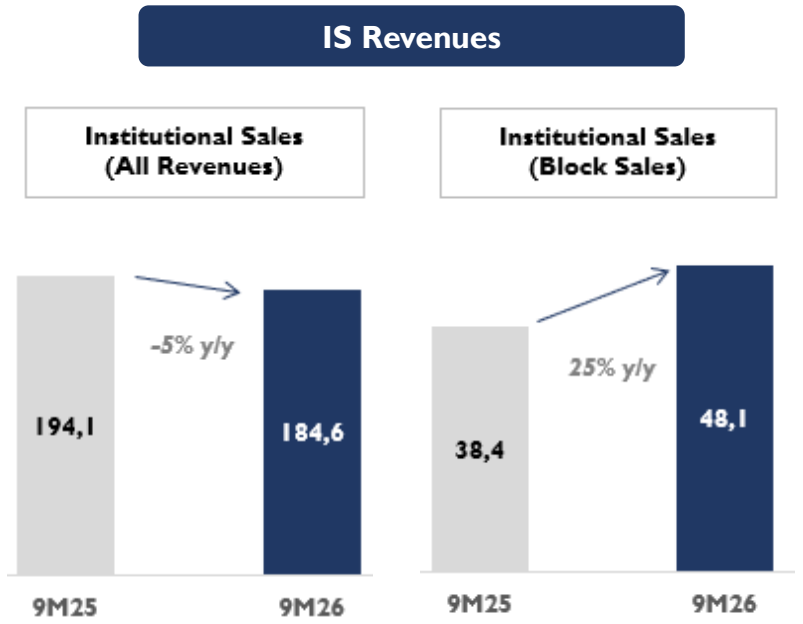

Supported by strong corporate earnings and technology stocks, the S&P 500 ended the quarter up 2.3%, while emerging markets moved sideways.Domestically, interest rates fell by approximately 300 bps after the CBRT resumed its weekly repo auctions in August.

The BIST-100 index, however, came under heavy selling pressure in September due to rising global yields and liquidity problems at some investment funds. BIST 100 index fell 15% in September, its steepest monthly decline since October 2008, and ended the quarter at 11,947.

(*) Other Revenues: Block Sales, ECM and DCM revenues, other brokerage and research services

Performance of the Business Line

In Q3, geopolitical risks, rising oil prices and global interest rate pressure weakened foreign investors' risk appetite for Türkiye. With the BIST 100 ending the quarter down approximately 15%, foreign institutional clients mainly reduced positions and rebalanced their portfolios.
